

OHIO AND EAST IN GRIP OF ZERO WAVE

STATE RECORDS OF FIFTY YEARS BROKEN BY COLD

Twenty-Nine Degrees Below Zero In Parts Of Ohio

Deaths and Fire Damage Follow In Wake of Winter Weather

Columbus, O., Jan. 28.—All Ohio suffered from below zero weather early today. Temperature ranged from slightly below zero in the extreme northern part of the state to 10 or 12 below in the open spaces in south-eastern Ohio, according to official readings received at the United States weather bureau.

Official thermometer readings included: Cleveland, zero; Toledo, 2 below; Ft. Wayne 4 below; Columbus 4 below; Cincinnati and Parkersburg, each 6 below. Although rising temperature is predicted weather bureau officials expressed belief that the mercury will not rise above the freezing point before Friday.

A minimum of 8 or 12 degrees above zero was forecast for tonight. Increasing cloudiness, with probable snow Thursday, is expected.

Ohio weather records of the past fifty years were smashed today, on the basis of unofficial reports of mercurial readings. Some points in Muskingum County reported 29 degrees below zero. In Hocking county, 22 below, was reported at Logan and other points in that county. Perry county points, including New Lexington, reported 24 below.

Requests for food, clothing and fuel, from destitute families, were materially increased at offices of charitable organizations throughout the state.

New York, Jan. 28.—New York muffled up today as the mercury held onto about 5 degrees above zero. A coastal northeast gale followed yesterday's snow and sleet storm which left four inches of snow to impede foot and vehicular traffic.

More snow was predicted for Thursday with slightly warmer temperatures.

The 30 degree drop in the thermometer caused one death, injuries to several persons and an attempt by a woman to commit suicide.

Alice Jones, of Freeport, Long Island, was found frozen in a rocking chair in her home.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The third anniversary of the collapse of the Knickerbocker theatre, which killed nearly a hundred persons, brought another heavy snowfall and bitterly cold weather to the capital.

Two deaths because of the drop in temperature were reported.

Dr. G. F. Lumsden, 70, former commander of the naval medical corps, died from heart failure after being marooned in the snowstorm, and Archie Burrell, a negro, was found frozen to death in an unfrequented street.

At 7:30 a.m. the temperature was 29 degrees above zero.

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 28.—The most serious storm in years played havoc with telephone and telegraph communication lines and transportation here today.

Chesapeake and Ohio crack train No. 4 from Cincinnati to Washington, due here at 4:15 this morning, was reported at 11 o'clock stranded at Hurricane, 25 miles west of Charleston, with two other eastbound trains behind it.

Virtually all telegraph and long distance telephone lines were down.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Eastern and northern New York shivered today in the coldest weather of the winter. The official temperature at the weather bureau here showed 10 below zero. Nearby places reported from 10 to 15 below.

At Canton, N. Y., according to a report received at the weather bureau here, it was 42 below.

Olean, N. Y., Jan. 28.—This city and southwestern New York experienced the coldest weather of the season and a drop in temperature of 70 degrees within 36 hours.

The coldest weather reported in the city this morning was 30 degrees below zero.

Zanesville, O., Jan. 28.—Thermometers in this city recorded lower temperatures this morning than have been felt for several years, ranging from 15 to 20 degrees below zero. The coldest spot in the county and possibly in the state, was Canfieldville, a mining town, ten miles south of here, where 29 degrees below zero was reported. At the Ralph Rehl home, five miles west of the city on the National road, it was 26 degrees below.

STATES' REJECTION NOT TO HALT FIGHT FOR LABOR MEASURE

Will Continue Effort To Have Amendment Ratified.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Sponsors of the constitutional amendment prohibiting child labor asserted today that the apparent failure of the amendment, through its rejection by one fourth of the states, would not result in their abandonment of the fight for its adoption. The fight can and will, they said, be carried on by campaigns in the rejecting states, much after the manner that the eighteenth and nineteenth amendments were put through state legislatures.

The legislatures that have rejected the amendment can reconsider their action at any time in the future. Constitutional amendments remain pending for years, and time and circumstances may change the complexion of a legislature.

A campaign for ratification of the amendment is being directed by the American Federation of Labor and it was stated at labor headquarters today that there would be no change in the federation's plans in furtherance of the amendment, despite the unfavorable outlook.

California and Arkansas are the only two states, so far, to approve the amendment.

"Gross misrepresentation," by those opposed to the child labor amendment was charged in a statement issued by Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor. "In most of the states where unfavorable action already has been taken," Morrison said, "there have been organized campaigns of the most despicable nature. The whole situation calls for a congressional investigation of the most serious character."

GAS GOES UP

Columbus, O., Jan. 28.—A one cent increase in the price of gasoline, naphtha and varnoline became effective here today, gas being quoted to dealers at 16 cents and to consumers at 18. Naphtha and varnoline went to 16 1/2 cents.

MINISTERS LEAVE MEETING ASSURED OF SUPPORT IN FIGHT FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT

Columbus, O., Jan. 28.—Assured of the support of Governor Donahey and Attorney General Crabbe in their fight for law enforcement, the more than 700 Ohio Protestant pastors returned to their homes today after attending the sessions marking the two day annual conference held here under the auspices of the Ohio Council of Churches. At a banquet Tuesday night, Governor Donahey promised to assure the pastors that, if law may co-operate with the clergymen, they failed to do their duty after being repeatedly informed by the ministers of the existence of unlawful conditions, such mayor "will be looking at me across my desk inside of 24 hours."

Attorney General Crabbe, talking at the banquet, advised that, if additional legislation is needed, the legislators confer upon the governor the power to say: "I'll remove you from office" for failure to enforce other laws besides liquor laws.

"What's wrong with Ohio is the element that insists on enforcing the law as long as it does not hit them," said the attorney general. He said that if laws were enforced half as well as they are enacted, 90 per cent of crime would be eliminated.

About 100 members of the state legislature attended the banquet. A number of them walked out when Rev. L. C. Wright, Cleveland, making the final address, indicated that a political "big stick" would be used on house members who voted against ratifying the proposed child labor amendment.

IS REJECTED BY ASSEMBLY VOTE OF THREE TO ONE

Ohio Vote Kills Plan In U. S.—Will Not Be Re-vised.

Columbus, O., Jan. 28.—Ohio rejected the proposed federal child labor amendment late Tuesday when the house, by a vote of ninety-one noes and thirty-five ayes defeated the ratification of resolution after long debate.

Although it is constitutionally possible for the ratification proposal to originate again in the senate, this move is not expected and the project is considered dead, so far as this section is concerned.

Proponents hope to revive it two years hence, and to make it an issue at the next general election. The resolution of congress, submitting the proposed amendment to the state's fixed a seven years time limit for ratification. Inasmuch as the amendment has been rejected by thirteen states, the minimum number necessary to insure its defeat, it is expected Ohio legislatures will take no further action on it.

After voting to insert numerous technical amendments aimed to correct flaws in the bill the senate taxation committee today will recommend passage of the emergency financial relief bill, as amended. The committee will urge that the bill be printed as amended. This action will prevent its passage this week. Leaders at first had hoped that the measure could be finally acted upon and sent to Governor Donahey before the close of the week.

The senate rules committee will report today, recommending confirmation of five short term appointments by the governor. No action was taken on appointment of T. J. Duffy, East Liverpool, for a second term as member of the state industrial commission. Governor Donahey, as a result is understood to intend not to send any more appointments to the senate until Duffy's name is acted upon.

The appointments to be recommended by the rules committee for confirmation are: Herbert B. Briggs, Cleveland; William C. Groeninger, Columbus; Peter E. Dempsey, Columbus; Edward J. Cavan, Cleveland, and John H. Clemmer, Akron, as members of the state bureau of standards.

The senate adopted the resolution proposing a state constitutional amendment which would assess the full cost of public improvements on benefited property. The resolution must be acted upon by the house.

The senate also passed the following bills, all of which go to the house:

Prohibiting discrimination in teachers salaries because of sex; allowing appeal from justice courts without filing bonds and providing that prisoners shall work out fines at the rate of $1.50 instead of 60 cents a day.

The house taxation committee tonight will be asked to report out for passage the bill of Representative Brown, Champaign county, levying a 2c tax per gallon on gasoline used for motor vehicles.

A stiff fight on the bill in committee is expected.

JURY RESUMES PROBE OF FATAL HERRIN TROUBLE

Witnesses Tell Stories Conflicting as To Who Fired First

Herrin, Ill., Jan. 28.—With the first representatives of outside Klaverns of the Ku Klux Klan arriving for the funeral tomorrow of S. Glenn Young, Williamson county two gun raider, the coroner's jury today resumed its probe into the gun fight Saturday night when four men were killed.

The principal witness today was C. Lige Green, former union official with whom Young was quarreling when Deputy Sheriff Ora Thomas appeared on the scene. Witnesses yesterday asserted that Thomas entered the place with half drawn gun and fired the first shot in the battle fatal to four men.

Green's story was to be, in effect, that Young held him with drawn pistols while he pleaded with Thomas not to draw his weapon and that Young fired first when he finally was pushed aside.

James Stratcher and John C. Glenn also were on hand to verify Green's story and to deny intimations made yesterday that they were responsible for shots which came from their direction.

Much may be learned from the testimony of Mrs. Angelo Biotti who was in charge of her husband's store on the night of the tragedy and who was present when Young and his followers first came into the place.

Plans for the most gigantic Klan funeral ever held in the state when Young will be buried tomorrow have been completed.

SHE IS DETERMINED Nice, Jan. 28.—Ganna Walska, unflinching in her determination to be an opera star, is billed to sing "Madame Butterfly" at the Nice Opera tonight.

WILL U. S. ENFORCE PAYMENT IF FRANCE HAS NOT BEEN PAID?

Paris, Jan. 28.—The specific question was asked in the chamber of deputies, whether the United States intends to exact payment of the French political debt to America although France has not been paid for reparations?

Deputy Louis Dubois advanced the query in opening the debate on international debts.

The Parmentier mission to Washington to discuss the French debt was a "regrettable mistake," declared Deputy Loucheur. It had the effect of "rupturing Franco-British international debt solidarity toward America," he said.

BOGGS BROTHERS MAY FOLLOW DEFENSE PLAN USED IN LOEB AND LEOPOLD CASE

Hillsboro, O., Jan. 28.—Pleas of not guilty to murder charges were entered yesterday by John and Dan Boggs, of Jackson, O., when they were arraigned before Judge N. C. McBride in Common Pleas Court here.

The two youths, who were indicted on five separate charges by a Highland County Grand Jury for the slaying of Harry T. McGill and wounding of E. W. Lemon last week will be given separate trials.

Dan Boggs will be brought to trial March 2 on a first degree murder charge, and his older brother, John, 24, will be tried March 16 on charge of aiding and abetting murder.

The court appointed H. F. Pulse, Lynchburg attorney, counsel for the pair.

Court attaches are of the opinion that the "not guilty" plea, may be changed to one of "guilty," thus throwing them on the mercy of the court. If this is done, it will place the court on exactly the same basis as the defense of Loeb and Leopold, Chicago's perfect murderers. This would automatically devolve upon the court to hear the evidence, determine the degree of murder and impose sentence.

Feeling is intense in Hillsboro against the brothers, it is said, who are alleged to have slain McGill after they had attempted to re-arrest him, after they had escaped him following their attempt to rob a hardware store in Hillsboro.

Some difficulty may be experienced in getting a jury, it is said, that would not be acquainted with the case and have some opinion about it.

Klan Leader Killed in Herrin Riot

Glenn Young, Ku Klux Klan self-appointed dry raider and central figure in the deadly battles that have marked the fueds of "Bloody Williamson County," Illinois, was shot to death, as was his chief lieutenant, George Forbes, in a pistol duel in Herrin, Ill., with Deputy Sheriff Ora Thomas, his long-time enemy, who also was killed. Several other persons were wounded in the fusillade. Young boasted he had "twenty-two notches" in his gun.

DOLAN IN NEW YORK FOR OFFICIAL PROBE OF BALL SCANDAL

Star Witness In Bribe Investigation Confers With Lawyer

New York, Jan. 28.—According to reports from several sectors of the Broadway front, Mr. Albert "Cozy" Dolan, one of the star witnesses in the official probe of the baseball scandal has slipped into town without so much as giving the district attorney a formal nod.

The latter, through one of his assistants, George Brothers, is conducting an inquiry into Jimmy O'Connell's ill-fated attempt to bribe Heine Sand and is very anxious to find out whether Dolan still forgets to remember, as he did when questioned by Judge Landis.

The prosecutor is waiting patiently for Mr. Dolan to respond to his invitation to appear before him. Mr. Dolan has neglected to do so. But several habitués of Broadway's theatrical district claim to have seen Dolan within the last 24 hours, ensconced in his old haunts without apparent attempt at concealment.

It is also said that he has had a conference with his attorney, William J. Fallon, but this could not be verified.

There is an air of mystery to the entire business. One story had it that Dolan left his home in Oshkosh, Wis., several days ago. His wife is said to have confessed ignorance of his present whereabouts.

The witness for the marquis was Baron D'Aiguy. The witness for Miss Swanson was first secretary of the American embassy, Hallet Johnson. Miss Swanson wore a beige gray tailored suit and a simple hat.

STONE ON STAND IN DEFENSE ON SENATE PROBE

Administration Leaders Want to Curb Publicity Given Hearings.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Attorney General Harlan F. Stone, named to the supreme court by President Coolidge, took the witness stand in his own defense today, before the senate judiciary committee to defend his professional record against senatorial criticism.

Stone appeared first at a secret session to explain his former legal activities for J. Pierpont Morgan and his reported intention as attorney general to re-indict Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat of Montana. Opposition to these two phases of Stone's legal record has blocked confirmation of his appointment to the supreme court.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Provoked by publicity given the senatorial attack upon Attorney General Harlan F. Stone, administration leaders today studied methods of enforcing the senate's rule of silence thrown around its secret sessions a century ago.

Led by Senator Reed, Republican of Pennsylvania, Republican leaders had under consideration a plan to bar from the senate press gallery the representatives of all newspapers publishing news of events that occur behind locked doors. This would apply chiefly to the secret debate on presidential nominations and international treaties. It met with favor, especially after party chieftains found they could not enforce secrecy upon their own membership.

At the same time, the progressive factions of both major parties were preparing a drive to revise the senate's rules to permit public debate on all questions. It was learned that Senator Dill, Democrat of Washington, is now drafting a "publicity" resolution to be introduced within a few days.

"I will introduce a resolution to compel publication of the senate on consideration of either nominations or treaties," said Dill.

"In some instances, where secrecy might be desired by all, I would provide for closed sessions on a two thirds vote of the senate."

"It is outrageous to have any proceeding, which so vitally affects the welfare of the people—as appointments to the supreme court or an international treaty—considered in secret. The answer to the whole problem is that public business should be published."

Administration spokesmen were known to oppose the move.

"I favor steps to compel enforcement of the senate's rules imposing secrecy on all executive session business," said Senator Reed. "We cannot remedy the present situation by trying to force newspapermen to disclose their sources of information nor by lecturing our own members."

"The only way I see, is to enact a new rule barring from the press all new representatives of any newspaper that publishes the business transacted in executive sessions. This would result in actual enforcement of the rule."

The two reformed drives grew out of the fight to prevent confirmation of Attorney General Stone's promotion to the supreme court.

LOW RATE ACCIDENT POLICY ISSUED BY PAPERS IS POPULAR

The farmer who walks down the road from his home to call on a neighbor, is an insurance risk, according to the records of insurance companies.

Statistics show that this is one of the common forms of disaster that have served to shorten life since the introduction of the automobile and other space-defying inventions.

It is one of the principal points covered in the accident insurance policy being offered to readers of The Evening Gazette and The Morning Republican, at the extremely low rate of 98 cents a year. The policy issued at this low rate, which is for a total sum of $2,500, pays $1,000 for loss of life, loss of hands, feet or sight, occasioned by being knocked down while walking or standing on a public highway.

The same clause includes loss of life, hands, feet or sight by being struck by lightning, cyclone or tornado, by the collapse of the outer walls of a building, or in the burning of any church, theater, library, school or municipal building. If the victims of the Christmas eve school holocaust had carried these policies, beneficiaries would have realized greatly.

Sale of this insurance, which requires no physical examination whatever, is in charge of Tom Conklin, circulation manager of The Gazette and The Republican and the only stipulation made is that one of these papers goes into the home of the person wishing to be insured. Any one between the ages of ten and seventy may take out a policy and as many as wish in any one family may also take advantage of the offer.

Policies are issued in The Federal Life Insurance Company, Chicago, Ill., an old established company with assets more than $7,000,000. The extremely low rate is made possible through the volume of business the company is able to do through the newspapers which is proven by the record number of policies issued by The Gazette and The Republican since the plan was started.

The policy increases ten per cent in principal every year for five years so that the total value is $3,750 at the end of that time, although the yearly payments never exceed 98 cents.

In addition to the clause explained above the policy pays $2,000 for loss of life, hands, feet or sight by the wrecking of public omnibus, taxicab, auto stage horse drawn or motor driven vehicles and passenger elevators and the full $2,500 for loss of life, hands, feet, or sight by wrecking of railroad passenger car, street car, elevator or subway car, steamship or steamboat.

In case of partial disability, the policy pays $10 a week for a period of fifteen weeks for all injuries sustained in this manner. In other words it is a policy that the holder does not have to die to "beat".

KIWANIS GREATEST SERVICE CLUB IN U. S. SPEAKER SAYS AT TENTH ANNIVERSARY MEET

"The Kiwanis organization is the greatest service club in the United States" is the opinion of J. Kenneth Williamson, past president of the Xenia Kiwanis Club, expressed in a talk at the Elks' Lodge Monday night, when the local club celebrated the tenth anniversary of the Kiwanis organization.

Mr. Williamson told of the growth of Kiwanis from a luncheon club to the organization as it is now operated. At the time of its incorporation he said, the motto of the club was "We Trade" and in 1918 the club became a humanitarian organization and the motto "We Build" was substituted in 1919. There are now 1,300 clubs with over 95,000 members, he said.

"A ledger account of what the member gets out of the club or the good done by the clubs cannot be kept," he said, "but the unselfish work of the organization in every community is easily recognized.

Dr. A. M. Patterson, president of the local club last year gave a short talk on Kiwanis International and told of the co-operation and growth of the clubs over the world.

S. M. McKay, another former president of the club gave an interesting talk on the future of Kiwanis and the need for co-operation among the members. He urged the importance of committee work and for every member to do his share.

C. E. Arbogast, on behalf of the club, presented Dr. Patterson, as retiring president, a handsome traveling bag, as a token of esteem. Dr. Patterson responded and toasted the operation of the club members during his term of office.

President E. H. Heathman gave a brief account of the district convention, which he, with Dr. Patterson, attended in Columbus last week. He spoke of the proposed Kiwanis memorial to be erected in British Columbia on the spot where President Harding delivered his last address before his fatal illness. Members of Kiwanis International will donate to the memorial fund.

Tickets for the "Welfare Show" to be given by the club February 12, were distributed to club members Tuesday evening. Reserved seats can be obtained at Jones' Drug Store, Thursday.

MOTHERS YOUNGER KIDDIES STRONGER

CocoCod is Replacing Rouge As Result of Investigation In Our Schools

Mother's are growing younger as their kiddies grow stronger! Awakened to the real value of a new feeding and building process by the recent investigation in our public schools, women are finding CocoCod, a new easy-to-take form of cod liver oil, a welcome substitute for rouge in causing roses to bloom in pallid cheeks.

Starting as was the revelation that 40% of our students are literally underfed—suffering from malnutrition and vitamin deficiency—it has had a wholesome and far-reaching effect. Medical authorities who believe this underfeeding responsible for much of the ill health among adults, recommend cod liver oil as a means to renewed vigor for men and women as well as children.

In CocoCod the taste of rich cod liver oil is welcomed by youngsters as much as its strength-building vitamins and pure Norwegian cod liver oil are praised by physicians, teachers and nurses. It is truly astounding, even in aged folk, how it wakes up the eliminative organs, creates greater nerve force and causes good red blood to go boiling through the veins.

So far-reaching are its effects in both men and women and among all ages, that thoughtful minds are asking—"Is a new and fuller life opening to us? What will be the result? They say, when the full benefits of this feeding or building process are realized? Only time can show, but meanwhile CocoCod is bringing new strength, energy, nerve force and vitality to many weak, nervous, half-alive people. Local druggists who are distributing it, as well as physicians and teachers, have been informed concerning its value. Ask for CocoCod if you want the genuine Norwegian cod liver oil in easy-to-take form.—Adv.

PICTURESQUE PROGRAM PRESENTED BEFORE CLUB

One of the most effective and delightful programs presented before a Xenia club audience was enacted at the meeting of the Xenia Woman's Music Club, at the home of Mrs. Alice Ruthrauff on North King Street, Monday afternoon.

Each member had been given the privilege of inviting one guest to the meeting, without the knowledge of the surprise in store for them. The program of the afternoon was in charge of the Fifth Division, with Miss Stella Bishop as the leader.

Miss Bishop read her paper on "Stories of the Operas of Puccini" which was ably handled and was of deeper import since the death of this famous opera-writer saddened the musical world recently.

Miss Bishop then turned the program of the afternoon into the hands of Mrs. Charles W. Adair, who was responsible for the unusual effects and who has been the originator of many clever performances in the city.

Mrs. Adair titled her program "Living Portraits from Operas." In one corner of the living room of the Ruthrauff home a screen frame had been arranged where the opera characters as they took their places, formed a living picture.

Mrs. Adair had written poetry for each character as introduced, giving the name of the actress and the various famous roles enacted. Each one taking part in the program, took the part of several characters.

Mrs. James Wilson, III, was introduced in the roles of "Puccini," "Martha," and "Isolde." "The Last Rose of Summer" was sung during Mrs. Wilson's "Martha" scene.

Miss Elizabeth Alexander took the part of "Scarpia," "Genaro" and "Tonio." She repeated part of the prologue of "Tonio."

Miss Anna Lee Moore stepped into the picture as "Madame Butterfly," "Nedda" and "The Goddess Girl."

Miss Betty Morgan was "The Girl from the Golden West" and also appeared as "Gretel" and "Mignon."

The colorful character of "Carmen" and that of "Santuzza" were taken by Mrs. Lawrence Shields.

"Elizabeth" from the opera "Tannhauser" and "Chimene" were the characters enacted by Miss Evelyn Perrill. The romantic figure of "Cinderella" was portrayed in the person of Miss Mary Louise Smith.

Shakespeare's pathetic character of "Ophelia" and the Latin "Lucia" were the roles taken by Miss Zella Soward.

Miss Bertha Hyman took the part of "Gilda" and Mrs. Steel Poague was easily-recognized "Amelia." The leading role in the opera "Aida" was taken by Miss Eleanor McKay who also appeared dressed as "Don Jose."

Elsa, the bride from Lohengrin was pictured in bridal robes worn by Miss Helen Huxley. During the enactment of this scene Mrs. James Wilson, III and Miss Zella Soward sang, "The Bridal Chorus" from opera.

Other characters familiar to everyone interested in opera and music were taken by Miss Mildred Fudge in the part of "Beckmesser," Miss Josephine John as "Puck" and "Hansel."

Miss Annabelle Dean read a part of the character "Cherubino" when she appeared as that character. She also took the part of "Arlene," a babe from Toyland and Mrs. Adair sang a number from this opera during the scene.

Another picturesque role was that of Faust's "Marguerite" taken by Mrs. Karl R. Babb.

"Donna Anna" and "Louise" were the characters taken by Miss Mary Elizabeth McDorman.

Climaxing the series of charming pictures, little Miss Joan Huston appeared as a dainty Cupid, whose name was read in connection with that of Miss Stella Bishop, a member of the club, whose wedding will be an event of the near future. Little "Miss Cupid" served the guests refreshments, and the remainder of the meeting was enjoyed socially, in compliment to Miss Bishop.

Seven comforts were made and sent to the Indian mission fields in the far-west at one meeting and six comforts for the mountaineers in Kentucky were made at the second.

Mrs. J. G. Dixon was in charge of the program with the topic, "Temperance." She distributed small, suitable material to be read by each member, that all might take part in the program. Mrs. Walter Dean read "What Other Countries Are Doing For Temperance."

Mrs. J. Carl Marshall read an interesting story on "I Pledge Allegiance." Mrs. E. H. Carruthers read "The Bridal Wine Cup."

The annual prayer cycle was distributed to the members by Mrs. Patterson.

LACK OF CHRISTIAN TRAINING DEPLORED BY LECTURER HERE

The cause of the present slump in moral living, the crime of today and the general downward moral tendency is due to the lack of early Christian influence in the home, declared Dr. Henry Blackburn, M. D., well-known lecturer, from Des Moines, Ia., in an address a number of the Central High School lecture course, Tuesday evening at the Jean B. Elwell Auditorium.

Dr. Blackburn delivered a plain talk on the subject "Cords and Discords." He dwelt on the influence affecting the forming of the character of the boy or girl. He gave examples of his points, gained through his experiences as a physician and deplored the effects of the wrong kind of living.

He drew graphic pictures of the later effect of the early wrong mode of living and declared the failures and wrecks of today were the result of the impressions brought out in early life. He told of the harmful effects of suggestive pictures, literature and other influences.

The general theme of his address was moral cleanliness and the effects of opposing forces, and the result of certain immoral practices on later happiness and welfare.

Dr. Blackburn gave a similar address to the students of Central High School, Wednesday morning. Both talks were well received by the audiences.

The next number of the school lecture course will be "The Ghost Between" the play by Vincent Lawrence, which will be presented February 25 by a Broadway cast.

The play is said to be clean, swift-moving and of a natural theme. It tells the story of a well-to-do physician who marries a widow because he wants to give her the nice things of life. The thought that she is still in love with her dead husband, on the husband's part and the wife's impression that her husband lacked the necessary love for her causes the couple much unhappiness and gives material for an interesting plot. The lines include much comedy and "punch."

The play ran for three months at the Thirty-ninth Street Theater, New York City.

She is survived by two children, Luke Bootes and Mrs. Edith Clark, both of Michigan.

ANTIOCH STUDENTS WILL GIVE BOSSES DINNER IN DAYTON

The Antioch co-operative students working in Dayton are giving a dinner Thursday evening at the Engineer's Club to their "bosses."

This is the first dinner of its kind ever given in Dayton or anywhere else so far known.

The dinner is sponsored entirely by Antioch students, both men and women, and promises to be an interesting affair. Already acceptances have been received to the full capacity of the dining room at the Engineer's Club. There will be present fifty-nine bosses, representing forty-one industrial and business institutions of Dayton, and sixty-five Antioch students and members of the faculty, including President Arthur Morgan and Dean Philip Nash. The idea was originated by Miss Helen F. Greene, associate personnel director of Antioch College, formerly of Smith College, who will return from a trip to the East in time to attend the dinner Thursday evening.

The purpose of the dinner is to bring working students of Antioch of both sexes and their bosses together in a spirit of fellowship once every year, hence the function for Thursday has been entitled "The First Annual Bosses Dinner."

The preliminaries have been in charge of the Social Committee of the Antioch Men's Club, of Dayton, Clarence Edward Hanson of Paso Robles, California, chairman. Mr. Hanson, who is only twenty years of age, will, as temporary chairman of the evening, introduce student-worker Ernest M. Henderson of Davenport, Iowa, as Toastmaster or Permanent Chairman of the meeting. After a short address of welcome, Mr. Henderson will introduce Stanley B. Methewson, personnel director of Antioch College, who will in a five minute talk introduce Dean Nash of Antioch and Thomas B. Fordham, works manager of the Delco-Light.

Dean Nash will acknowledge the introduction for the academic faculty and Mr. Fordham will do likewise for the industrial faculty.

Miss Naomi Morgan of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., a student-worker of the Antioch Women's Club of Dayton, will make a short address on behalf of the women students of Antioch, and Arthur D. Zolg of Dayton will speak for the men-worker students of Antioch.

At the close of Mr. Zolg's talk, a ten minute recess will be taken to give everybody an opportunity to get acquainted. After recess Chairman Henderson will introduce Arthur E. Morgan, president of Antioch, as the principal speaker of the evening.

Invitations have been sent to all members of the board of trustees of the college, including General J. Warren Keifer, Homer C. Corry, of Springfield; George Little of Xenia; Gordon S. Rentschler of Hamilton; Prof. William M. Dawson, Yellow Springs; John C. Haswell, Frank D. Slutz, C. F. Kettering and William A. Chryst of Dayton. It is hoped that Professor Sven V. Knudson of Denmark, who is now en route to Yellow Springs, to take the chair of education, will arrive in time to be present at the dinner. Professor Knudson has come to Antioch because of Antioch's growing importance in the educational world.

OVERHEATED STOVE CAUSES FIRE THAT DESTROYS DWELLING

Fire which started from an overheated stove destroyed the residence owned by Merritt Phoenix, colored, 673 East Second Street, with most of the contents Tuesday afternoon.

Members of the family were away when the fire started and it had gained considerable headway before the alarm was sent in. Wrong directions furnished the fire department resulted in delay of firemen reaching the scene, and the flames were shooting through the roof when they arrived.

The residence is a frame, story and one-half structure, and it was completely gutted before firemen were able to check the flames. Three sections of hose, including 150 feet, were laid by firemen and water damage will account for part of the loss on the contents.

T. B. Claire, fire chief, said the owner was unable to estimate the loss, part of which will be covered by insurance carried on both building and contents.

Firemen used a chemical to extinguish a small blaze at the home of Fred Hornick, 224 Union Street, Tuesday evening. An overheated furnace is said to have caused the blaze. There was no damage.

(Drawing: Beowulf Costume)

And the people gathered round their dying king. Wiglaf denounced the cowardly thanes who had deserted their master in his hour of need. Then all the people listened to the last words of Beowulf.

"Divide ye this treasure amongst all and lay me to rest by the sea. And raise over me a great mound that all may see, and seeing remember Beowulf." Then he breathed his last.

Among the Geats there was grave sorrow and they buried their leader as he had commanded. So passed the mightiest of the champions, a thane among thanes, a king among kings.

GOOD DISPOSITIONS INVALUABLE

You can't watch your disposition too carefully. A crab and a grouch are rarely successful. If your liver and stomach are in an unhealthy condition you can not have a sunny disposition because they affect the brain as well as the entire system. Mav's Wonderful Remedy has been usually successful in such cases. Our advice to everyone troubled in this way, especially when accompanied with bloating in the stomach, is to try this remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. GORE IS SEEKING CO-OPERATION FOR NEW FARM CENSUS

Ford S. Prince, Greene County Agricultural Agent, has received a letter from Howard M. Gore, secretary of agriculture, in regard to the Census of Agriculture for which the enumeration is now in progress.

Mr. Gore urges every farmer to be interested in this work because this census will result in obtaining facts that will lead to a proper understanding of the actual conditions existing throughout the country he says.

The census is taken by the Department of Commerce in co-operation with the Department of Agriculture. The census is needed as a basis for the annual crop estimate of the Department of Agriculture and it is of great importance that the results, be accurate it is said, including the totals of farm acreage, land utilization, livestock, crops, etc., and will show actual conditions during 1924 and will be used for the preparation of estimates for each year until the next census.

The census is being taken primarily for the benefit of the farmers. Mr. Gore declares. The data to be supplied by farmers will be kept confidential and will be of benefit to farmers organizations and will help Congress to legislate wisely in matters affecting the farmer's interests.

Mr. Gore is urging the farmers to give prompt reply to all of the inquiries on the schedule and in every way possible facilitate the work of the enumerators, so that the census may be taken quickly and here may be no delay in tabulating the figures and publishing the totals.</

MEN SHOULD FIGHT IN RANKS OF GOD AS THEY DID IN WAR EVANGELIST TELLS EX-SOLDIERS

Dr. George Hugh Birney delivered the first of a series of afternoon sermons in the First Methodist Church, Tuesday afternoon, upon the general theme, "The Holy Spirit."

He spoke, in this first message upon "The Holy Spirit—and the Changed Plan," referring to the two-fold mission of the Holy Spirit—the mission of grace to the church, and the mission of conviction to the world. Jesus said, "When He is come (that is the Holy Spirit) He will convict the world of sin, of righteousness and of judgment." This was an uplifting message, and was heard by a good audience, considering the cold weather and the fact that this was the first of the afternoon services.

In the evening a number of ex-service men of three wars were present, and a large audience to hear Dr. Birney tell of his experiences over seas during the war.

"No Man's Land," said Evangelist Birney, Tuesday night, "will be the international cemetery of the world for a thousand years, because there ten million men gave up their lives upon the altar of war. It is sown with crosses, every one marking the place where lies the body of the world's soldier dead. Crosses in villages, crosses by the wayside, whole fields full of crosses, whole hill sides full of crosses—a world full of crosses, crosses everywhere! I hoped fill an American cemetery, just below the timber line of the Vosges, with the bodies of our boys, as we laid them away to await the trumpet of the resurrection."

The evangelist then quoted the poem, "In Flanders Field." He spoke of the challenge of those who lie out there, to "hold aloft their torch." And then he took his audience to Calvary where Jesus hung upon the first Cross and from whose blood-flecked lips came the word of the text, "GO." He pled with his audience to be true to that Divine command, as the condition of obedience to the passion of God.

Dr. Birney described a detachment going over the top at the "zero" hour, and the training of the army for that moment. He spoke of the artillery barrage which prepared the way for the charge, without which success would have been impossible. His audience could almost feel the awful tension of the moments of final waiting, and then the upleaping of the crouching soldiers, and their advance across No Man's Land hurling themselves into the enemy's trenches, charging through the intersecting trenches, down into the dug-outs, with bayonet rapping on bayonet, hand grenades bursting until the last inch of steel found its resting place in some man's heart and then—death or victory! It was a vivid description and will not soon be forgotten by the soldiers and others who sat tense with interest throughout the entire message.

The evangelist drew the analogy between the soldier and the Christian. "Nothing but the yellowness of sin," he said, "can ever explain why it seems to be harder to get men to fight for Jesus than for Uncle Sam. Many a man who went over the top over there, turns into a yellow coward when asked to do the same thing for God. It is not because they are physically afraid, but because sin makes cowards of all of us. It takes more genuine grit and grace to fight the battles of the Christian life than it ever did to face the enemy in the trenches—God knows why. But the moment we get the love of Christ in our hearts, and the loyalty of Heaven in our souls nothing is too hard, or no adventure too desperate. God is enlisting an army of fighting heroes. He is saying—'If any man would come after Me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow Me.'"

"If the church would bring to its evangelistic task today one tithe of the loyalty and sacrifice which won the war, we could win this generation to God."

Dr. Birney completed the analogy by speaking of the spiritual barrage which the artillery of God sends in answer to the prayer of faith. "It would be suicidal to go forward without this preparation," he said, "for we cannot win in our own strength. In answer to the prayers of the church God will send the Holy Spirit upon this community, until men shall cry out, 'Men and Brethren, what shall we do to be saved?'"

"It is a 'zero' hour for the church, and the command is to 'GO.' Are we standing at attention? Are we ready for our task? Have we laid all upon the altar? Are we ready to make the sacrifice, not to kill men but to make them alive unto God?"

Dr. Birney told a touching story of how a certain slim scout, a lad from Kansas, boasted to him that he was going out to hunt for his "Buddy" in No Man's Land one night, and "Was not coming back without him." The evangelist described this lad deliberately separating himself from his scouting squad and crawling through the darkness calling, "Buddy are you out here—have they got you? Buddy! Buddy! I'm out here to get you and I'm not going back until I find you—Buddy! Buddy! Buddy!" "Neither boy ever came back," concluded the speaker. "Oh, I would to God that such a spirit, sanctified by the passion that took Jesus to Calvary, might send every one of us out with the vow never to come back without those we seek for God."

The audience was dismissed at 8 o'clock for those having tickets to the lecture in the High School Auditorium to attend. An after service of prayer and testimony was held, and a large number of people took part. The revival is increasing in numbers and interest.

The subject of Dr. Birney Wednesday night at 7:30 will be "The Family Name of God." It being "family night." A prize will be given by Dr. Birney to the youngest member of the largest family present. "Bring out the babies," says the doctor, "and we will make them comfortable." Fathers, mothers, sons and daughters, are invited to attend and sit together if possible.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR P. T. A. MEETING ALL DAY THURSDAY

The attention that organized parent-teacher work has attracted in the United States will be shown when almost 500 delegates from the Southwestern Ohio district of the state branch of the National Congress Parent-Teacher Association will meet in Xenia Thursday at Central High School.

Plans that vitally affect homes, schools and community life in eleven counties in Ohio will be discussed at the meeting, which will be addressed by well-known educators from over the state.

The chief speakers of the day include Paul C. Stetson, superintendent of Dayton City Schools; Dr. W. R. McChesney, president of Cedarville College; Mrs. Edith McClure Patterson, Dayton, state thrift chairman; Thurman "Dusty" Miller, Wilmington; and Mrs. Hamilton Shaffer, second state P. T. A. vice president, besides other local educators.

Members of the Xenia Parent-Teacher Federation were busy Wednesday completing details for the large meeting. Plans for serving the guests luncheon and dinner were one of the problems confronting the hostesses. All sessions will be held in the Jean B. Elwell Auditorium of Central High School and luncheon and dinner will be served in the school cafeteria.

POLICE BENEFIT EXPECTED TO DRAW CROWDS TO THEATER

Police believe they will realize generously from the benefit movie performance to be staged at the Ophium Theater Thursday and Friday afternoon and evening.

Policemen have sold tickets for the affair, and the proceeds of the benefit will be used by them in the purchase of new uniforms, which they expect to don this spring. The new uniforms, it is said, will change the style of police uniforms in use in the city.

The movie feature is "Going up," a seven-reel comedy drama, featuring Douglas MacLean, who makes a name for himself in the "Hottentots." In addition to this picture, a one-reel Larry Semon comedy will be shown, giving patrons eight reels of pictures.

Officers are urging those who purchased tickets to attend the matinee and avoid the crowds at night. The matinee, each day will be at 2:30 o'clock while in the evening there will be performances at 6:30 and 8:30 o'clock.

Policemen have sold many tickets for the benefit among friends, and say crowds will greet the appearance of the picture here.

Your Income Tax

The revenue act of 1924 provides for certain specified deductions from gross income in determining net income, among which are business expenses, interest on indebtedness, taxes, losses, bad debts, depreciation, depletion and contributions and gifts. Each will be treated separately.

Deductions for business expenses form the largest claim in the returns of many taxpayers. All the ordinary and necessary expenses of a trade or business or profession paid or incurred during the year for which the return is made are allowable deductions.

A taxpayer in trade or business may claim as deductions from gross income a reasonable allowance for salaries paid employees, amounts spent for advertising, premium for insurance against fire or other business losses, rent paid for store or warehouse, the stationery, etc., used in his place of business drayage and freight bills and the cost of operation and repair of delivery wagons and trucks. A professional man may claim as deductions the cost of supplies used in the practice, expenses paid in the operation and repair of an automobile used for professional calls, dues to professional societies, subscriptions to professional journals, office rent, the cost of fuel, light, heat and water used in such office and the hire of assistants.

The farmer who operates a farm for profit may deduct all amounts paid in the production and harvesting of his crops, including labor, cost of seed and fertilizer used, cost of minor repairs to farm buildings (but not the dwelling) and cost of small tools used up in the course of a year or two.

An Extra Gasoline Tax of from 6 to 20 Cents Per Gallon

Your gasoline bills run into real money.

But have you ever stopped to figure how much of this is in the form of an incredibly high gasoline tax?

Let's see what happens when you leave the Concrete Highway and take to a gravel or a dirt road.

Conclusive tests have proved that a gallon of gasoline will carry you only two thirds as far on a gravel road as on a Concrete Road. On a dirt road a gallon of gasoline will carry you only half as far as on Concrete.

With gasoline at twenty cents a gallon, you would thus pay a gasoline tax of more than 6 cents per gallon on the gravel road and 20 cents a gallon on the dirt road.

These are figures you can't get away from. You can prove them yourself.

And remember that every time you travel on either a dirt or a gravel road you also increase wear and tear on tires and run up your general repair bills.

Why continue to pay these high taxes and get nothing in return but the discomfort and inconvenience of unpaved roads and streets?

Let your local officials know you want an adequate system of Concrete Roads and Streets. They are just as willing to build them as you are anxious to get them.

But they must have your support.

"Not Possible To Classify"

Xenia, Ohio, Jan. 28.—A few jottings of the day Samuel Pepps, Jr.:—This day my wife, poor wretch, put on her new silk gown, which is cut short at the sleeves, as the fashion lately is, in which she was very pretty. So walked to the Methodist church, and, I being dressed in a blue shirt, we did make a great show.

A good sermon by Doctor Stanton and one that had some good pointers for me, but of a truth I did most of the time gaze upon a beautiful maid with bobbed hair, for which God forgive me! The singing as good as I have ever heard and mighty joyed that my wife did not sing out of tune, as is often the case.

In the afternoon came company to chat with us and we fell to talking about our fear of dentists, and loud praise we all had for those who give care to their teeth, as should we all. All spoke, too, of reading the ads in the "Professional" classification on the classified page.

By and by to the hospital to visit a friend lately cut from his tonsils, and found him quite happy and able to be about, the longing to get back again to his labors. Left him a bunch of flowers and met a nurse who gives him care, so left humming a tune about "I don't want to get well."

Made plans to go to a dance this week, tho have visions of how I will break my neck, so awkward am I. Played some tunes on my talking machine with the tin horn, until a late hour, when, frightened lest my neighbors give me a calling, and so lot to bed with prayers.

UNBEATEN TEAMS
FACE EACH OTHER IN LEAGUE GAMES

The two United Presbyterian teams, First and Second, hanging evenly from the halcyons of first place in the High School League of Sunday School Basketball Teams, with one victory each in as many starts, will oppose each other Wednesday night at the Central High School gym in a game, which will dislodge one team from the quadruple tie existing for first place.

The Friends Church is the third undefeated team to get into action Wednesday night against the Trinity Methodist Church team, which has a 100 per centage, with one game won and one dropped.

A comparison of scores would appear to give the First U. P. the edge in the game with the sister church. The former five ran up fourteen points while walloping the Home boys last week, while the Second U. P. team has no end of trouble in beating Trinity M. E. 7 to 4.

Trinity, after a mediocre start, came to life Monday and ran up a total of twenty-two points on the Episcopal team, while holding the Episcopal boys to a lone foul goal.

NOW! WHAT DOES
THIS MAKE CO. L.

Company L basketball team take special notice.

The reason the Alpha Ex-Hi's basketball team did not play you Thursday night, January 22, was because we only play fast teams now, and if there is any team in the city of Xenia things it is fast enough to take us on, please call County 4033-F3 and ask for the manager of the Alpha Ex-Hi basketball team.

ORDER FROM POLICE

Police Chief M. E. Graham is urging Xenia residents to get busy with their shovels and brooms and clean off all sidewalks and paths around their homes.

The heavy fall of "the beautiful" spelled hard work for householders Monday night and Tuesday morning but Tuesday noon saw the majority of the paths swept free of snow.

A THREE DAYS COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

LEADERS DISPLACED BY LAST WEEK'S GAMES
IN COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL LOOP

Results of last Friday's games in the Greene County Basketball League wrought a change in the rating. Leaders in both the boys' and girls' divisions, were displaced and but one team in each division now remains undefeated.

Beaver's victory over Cedarville boys' team gave Ross boys undisputed possession of the top position with two wins in as many starts.

Bath girls handed Yellow Springs its defeat and gained first position with two victories in a similar number of starts.

Beaver boys' victory put them into a tie for runner-up position with Cedarville. Each five has won four games and dropped but one.

Results of next Friday's games should not make any great change in the standing of the leaders of either division with the exception of the Cedarville-Bath girls' game. Bath girls are being closely

DAYTON TERMINAL OF TRACTION LINE TO BE MOVED SOON

Dayton terminal of the Dayton, Springfield and Xenia Southern Traction line and the Dayton Covington and Piqua Traction Company, will be moved from its present location in the Keith Theatre building in Dayton to the Giddings Hotel building, 229 South Ludlow Street, it is announced by T. A. Ferneding, general manager of the former company.

Cars will be operated from the new station on and after February 1, it is said. The lease on the present building expires on that date.

Removal of the terminal was decided on as a result of continued delay in operation of the traction cars around the Third Street loop, it is said. Cars are sometimes tied up by the new traffic signals at the corners from five to ten minutes, thus throwing off the entire schedule for the day.

The general offices of the D. S. and S. X. Railway are at present located on the second floor of the Giddings Hotel building.

MAY PROVIDE FOR SISTER OF BRYAN

Financial provision may be made by the state for Mary V. Bryan, a patient in Longview Hospital for Insane, Cincinnati, if a resolution by Representative Tallentire, Cincinnati, is adopted by the House.

The woman is a sister of the late John Bryan, Yellow Springs, who bequeathed the state 500 acres of land near Yellow Springs, several years ago, to be used for a state park.

Value of the land is estimated at $100,000. Bryan left his sister only $50 in his will.

YESTERDAY'S JUNIOR PUZZLE ANSWER

BRINGING UP FATHER

The Husband Tamer by VIOLET DARE

AUTHOR OF "The Half-Time Wife," "The Luxury of Love" etc.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED.

PATRICIA CLEVE has become estranged from her husband.

ANDREW CLEVE, who lives only for his business and expects her to give up everything to entertain his clients. She rebels and visits her sister, and he goes abroad. She is thrown with.

GREGORY HEWITT, a famous financier to whom her husband has introduced her, who falls in love with her, and whom she cannot ignore because of the help which he can give her sister's husband.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT.

XLVI—WHO WOULD BE FREE?

PATRICIA ducked her head and tried to brush past her husband as though she had not seen him, but he exclaimed "Patricia, were you coming to see me?"

VIOLET DARE

"How like a man," she thought, "Even so nice a man as Andrew always to think that a woman was looking for him if she came anywhere near his neighborhood."

"Would you have seen me if I had?" Patricia asked a note of wistfulness creeping into her voice.

"Oh I don't know," Andrew answered brusquely. "I suppose like a fool I wouldn't have. But come—let's go where we can talk. How are you, Pat? You're looking wonderful I must say. But how are you getting along?"

She smiled at him quizzically. "I can't talk to you now, Andrew," she said, dreading almost to speak for fear he would be whisked away from her again. "I'm late now for an important meeting. I must go in. But won't you come to see me tonight, at my hotel?"

"I don't understand all this Pat," he said, a note of tenderness creeping into his voice. Then, after a moment's hesitance, when she didn't speak he added, "I'll come."

Patricia couldn't have told anyone after the meeting what it was about; she was only vaguely conscious of a pounding at her heart and of a circle of faces around a table not one of which was the least bit interesting because not one of them looked like Andrew. But though she was not unobserving, she was not unobserved. The queenly bearing of her head, her aristocratic carriage, made such an impression on several of the men present that they resolved at once to ask her to interest Clayton Gillespie in other projects of theirs. If she was always to represent him, these committee meetings might not be so bad.

But Patricia hurried away in a daze before any of them could approach her. She wanted to get to fifty-seventh street to a certain little shop where she had seen a wine-colored evening dress, before it closed. Andrew had always liked her in that color. Then she must pick up her crystal beads and earrings that were being cleaned and restringed at the jeweler's.

"I'm fluttering like a debutante," she confided to her reflection in the mirror, just as the telephone rang announcing Andrew.

There was a quaver in her voice as she started talking to him; she wondered if he would give her a chance to tell her story or if he would just cut her off brusquely. In cold silence he heard her tell of her trip to her sister's, of how Keith had immediately used her friendship with Hewitt to further his business and of how she had come back to Chicago injured only to find his telegram ordering her back.

"And where is Hewitt now?" Andrew asked, his voice smoldering with anger.

"Oh you don't understand," Patricia's voice broke with a sob. "I don't know where he is, and probably never will. I didn't leave you for Gregory Hewitt," she went on. "I left you because you were making me a part of your business—such an unworthy part. I was nothing but a dressed-up doll who entertained your business associates. We had no real friends. We rarely had time even to see each other."

"And are you happier now?" he asked with a sardonic smile. "In a way, yes," Patricia stubbornly though she knew that this was her chance to fling caution to the winds and tell him that she would come back to him on any terms. "Of course, I miss you terribly. But I realize that what I want now was what I wanted before."

In cold silence Andrew heard her tell of her trip.

fore when I was with you—a real home, real friends, time to know each other—and children."

"We couldn't have all that Pat," he assured her earnestly. "I only asked you to help me because I needed you. Next year, perhaps we can break away from the awful pace that you hate so. Come back and I will forgive you for running away."

"Forgive me!" Pat's eyes blazed with anger as she backed out of his arms. "You forgive me for what?" Her voice was angry now and burning tears were coursing down her cheeks. "You have nothing to forgive, and I can't, I won't come back."

As he went out the door, she flung herself on a couch and cried convulsively. She had struck for her freedom and oh how she hated it! If she could call Andy back now, she would do it gladly, even though she knew that going back under the old terms meant unhappiness for both of them.

Tomorrow—A Strange Meeting.

OHIO AND EAST IN GRIP OF ZERO WAVE

STATE RECORDS OF FIFTY YEARS BROKEN BY COLD

Twenty-Nine Degrees Below Zero In Parts Of Ohio

Deaths and Fire Damage Follow In Wake of Winter Weather

Columbus, O., Jan. 28.—All Ohio suffered from below zero weather early today. Temperatures ranged from slightly below zero in the extreme northern part of the state to 10 or 12 below in the open spaces in south-eastern Ohio, according to official readings received at the United States weather bureau.

Official thermometer readings included: Cleveland, zero; Toledo, 2 below; Ft. Wayne 4 below; Columbus 4 below; Cincinnati and Parkersburg, each 6 below. Although rising temperature is predicted weather bureau officials expressed belief that the mercury will not rise above the freezing point before Friday.

A minimum of 8 or 12 degrees above zero was forecast for tonight. Increasing cloudiness, with probable snow Thursday, is expected.

Ohio weather records of the past fifty years were smashed today, on the basis of unofficial reports of mercurial readings. Some points in Muskingum County reported 29 degrees below zero. In Hocking county, 22 below, was reported at Logan and other points in that county. Perry county points, including New Lexington, reported 24 below.

Requests for food, clothing and fuel, from destitute families, were materially increased at offices of charitable organizations throughout the state.

New York, Jan. 28.—New York muffled up today as the mercury held onto about 5 degrees above zero. A coastal northeast gale followed yesterday's snow and sleet storm which left four inches of snow to impede foot and vehicular traffic.

More snow was predicted for Thursday with slightly warmer temperatures.

The 30 degree drop in the thermometer caused one death, injuries to several persons and an attempt by a woman to commit suicide.

Alice Jones, of Freeport, Long Island, was found frozen in a rocking chair in her home.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The third anniversary of the collapse of the Knickerbocker theatre, which killed nearly a hundred persons, brought another heavy snowfall and bitterly cold weather to the capital.

Two deaths because of the drop in temperature were reported.

Dr. G. F. Lumsden, 70, former commandant of the naval medical corps, died from heart failure after being marooned in the snowstorm, and Archie Burrell, a negro, was found frozen to death in an unheated street.

At 7:30 a.m. the temperature was 2.9 degrees above zero.

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 28.—The most serious storm in years played havoc with telephone and telegraph communication lines and transportation here today.

Ghesapeake and Ohio crack train No. 4 from Cincinnati to Washington, due here at 4:15 this morning, was reported at 11 o'clock stranded at Hurricane, 25 miles west of Charleston, with two other eastbound trains behind it.

Virtually all telegraph and long distance telephone lines were down.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Eastern and northern New York shivered today in the coldest weather of the winter. The official temperature at the weather bureau here showed 10 below zero. Nearby places reported from 10 to 15 below.

At Canton, N. Y., according to a report received at the weather bureau here, it was 42 below.

Olean, N. Y., Jan. 28.—This city and southwestern New York experienced the coldest weather of the season and a drop in temperature of 70 degrees within 36 hours.

The coldest weather reported in the city this morning was 30 degrees below zero.

Zanesville, O., Jan. 28.—Thermometers in this city recorded low temperatures this morning than have been felt for several years, ranging from 15 to 20 degrees below zero. The coldest spot in the county and possibly in the state, was Canfieldville, a mining town, ten miles south of here, where 29 degrees below zero was reported. At the Ralph Rehl home, five miles west of the city on the National road, it was 26 degrees below.

STATES' REJECTION NOT TO HALT FIGHT FOR LABOR MEASURE

Will Continue Effort To Have Amendment Ratified.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Sponsors of the constitutional amendment prohibiting child labor asserted today that the apparent failure of the amendment, through its rejection by one fourth of the states, would not result in their abandonment of the fight for its adoption. The fight can and will, they said, be carried on by campaigns in the rejecting states, much after the manner that the eighteenth and nineteenth amendments were put through state legislatures.

The legislatures that have rejected the amendment can reconsider their action at any time in the future. Constitutional amendments remain pending for years, and time and circumstances may change the complexion of a legislature.

A campaign for ratification of the amendment is being directed by the American Federation of Labor and it was stated at labor headquarters today that there would be no change in the federation's plans in furtherance of the amendment, despite the unfavorable outlook.

California and Arkansas are the only two states, so far, to approve the amendment. "Gross misrepresentation," by those opposed to the child labor amendment was charged in a statement issued by Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor. "In most of the states where unfavorable action already has been taken," Morrison said, "there have been organized campaigns of the most despicable nature. The whole situation calls for a congressional investigation of the most serious character."

GAS GOES UP

Columbus, O., Jan. 28.—A one cent increase in the price of gasoline, naphtha and varnoline became effective here today, gas being quoted to dealers at 16 cents and to consumers at 18. Naphtha and varnoline went to 16 1-2 cents.

IS REJECTED BY ASSEMBLY VOTE OF THREE TO ONE

Ohio Vote Kills Plan In U. S.—Will Not Be Revived.

Columbus, O., Jan. 28.—Ohio rejected the proposed federal child labor amendment late Tuesday when the house, by a vote of ninety-one yeas and thirty-five nays defeated the ratification of resolution after long debate.

Although it is constitutionally possible for the ratification proposal to originate again in the senate, this move is not expected and the project is considered dead, so far as this section is concerned.

Proponents hope to revive it two years hence, and to make it an issue at the next general election. The resolution of congress, submitting the proposed amendment to the states, fixed a seven years time limit for ratification. Inasmuch as the amendment has been rejected by thirteen states, the minimum number necessary to insure its defeat, it is expected Ohio legislatures will take no further action on it.

After voting to insert numerous technical amendments aimed to correct flaws in the bill the senate tax committee today will recommend passage of the emergency financial relief bill, as amended. The committee will urge that the bill be printed as amended. This action will prevent its passage this week. Leaders at first had hoped that the measure could be finally acted upon and sent to Governor Donahey before the close of the week.

The senate rules committee will report today, recommending confirmation of five short term appointments by the governor. No action was taken on appointment of T. J. Duffy, East Liverpool, for a second term as member of the state industrial commission. Governor Donahey, as a result is understood to intend not to send any more appointments to the senate until Duffy's name is acted upon.

The appointments to be recommended by the rules committee for confirmation are: Herbert B. Briggs, Cleveland; William C. Groeninger, Columbus; Peter E. Dempsey, Columbus; Edward J. Cavan, Cleveland; and John H. Clemmer, Akron, all members of the state bureau of standards. The senate adopted the resolution proposing a state constitutional amendment which would assess the full cost of public improvements on benefited property. The resolution must be acted upon by the house. The senate also passed the following bills, all of which go to the house:

Prohibiting discrimination in teachers salaries because of sex; allowing appeal from justice courts without filing bonds and providing that prisoners shall work out fines at the rate of $1.50 instead of 60 cents a day.

The house tax committee tonight will be asked to report out for passage the bill of Representative Brown, Champaign county, levying a 2c tax per gallon on gasoline used for motor vehicles.

A stiff fight on the bill in committee is expected.

MINISTERS LEAVE MEETING ASSURED OF SUPPORT IN FIGHT FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT

Columbus, O., Jan. 28.—Assured of the support of Governor Donahey and Attorney General Crabbe in their fight for law enforcement, the more than 700 Ohio Protestant pastors returned to their homes today after attending the sessions marking the two day annual conference held here under the auspices of the Ohio Council of Churches. At a banquet Tuesday night, Governor Donahey promised to assure the pastors that, if law may co-operate with the clergymen. He failed to do their duty after being repeatedly informed by the ministers of the existence of unlawful conditions, such mayor "will be looking at me across my desk inside of 24 hours."

Attorney General Crabbe, talking at the banquet, advised that, if additional legislation is needed, the legislators confer upon the governor the power to say: "I'll remove you from office" for failure to enforce other laws besides liquor laws.

"What's wrong with Ohio is the element that insists on enforcing the law as long as it does not hit them," said the attorney general. He said that if laws were enforced half as well as they are enacted, 90 per cent of crime would be eliminated.

About 100 members of the state legislature attended the banquet. A number of them walked out when Rev. L. C. Wright, Cleveland, making the final address, indicated that a political "big stick" would be used on house members who voted against ratifying the proposed child labor amendment.

JURY RESUMES PROBE OF FATAL HERRIN TROUBLE

Witnesses Tell Stories Confronting as To Who Fired First

Herrin, Ill., Jan. 28.—With the first representatives of outside Klaverns of the Ku Klux Klan arriving for the funeral tomorrow of S. Glenn Young Williamson county two gun raiders, the coroner's jury today resumed its probe into the gun fight Saturday night when four men were killed.

The principal witness today was C. Lige Green, former union official with whom Young was quarrelling when Deputy Sheriff Ora Thomas appeared on the scene. Witnesses yesterday asserted that Thomas entered the place with half drawn gun and fired the first shot in the battle fatal to four men.

Green's story was to be, in effect, that Young held him with drawn pistols while he pleaded with Thomas not to draw his weapon and that Young fired first when he finally was pushed aside.

James Satcher and John C. Glenn also were on hand to verify Green's story and to deny intimations made yesterday that they were responsible for shots which came from their direction.

Much may be learned from the testimony of Mrs. Angelo Biotti who was in charge of her husband's store on the night of the tragedy and who was present when Young and his followers first came into the place. Plans for the most gigantic Klan funeral ever held in the state when Young will be buried tomorrow have been completed.

Deputy Louis Dubois advanced the query in opening the debate on international debts.

The parliament mission to Washington to discuss the French debt was a "regrettable mistake," declared Deputy Loucheur. It had the effect of "rupturing Franco-British international debt solidarity toward America," he said.

DOLAN IN NEW YORK FOR OFFICIAL PROBE OF BALL SCANDAL

Star Witness In Bribe Investigation Confers With Lawyer

By DAVIS J. WALSH
New York, Jan. 28.—According to reports from several sectors of the Broadway front, Mr. Albert "Cozy" Dolan, one of the star witnesses in the official probe of the baseball scandal has slipped into town without so much as giving the district attorney a formal nod.

The latter, through one of his assistants, George Brothers, is conducting an inquiry into Jimmy O'Connell's ill-fated attempt to bribe Heine Sand and is very anxious to find out whether Dolan still forgets to remember, as he did when questioned by Judge Landis.

The prosecutor is waiting patiently for Mr. Dolan to respond to his invitation to appear before him. Mr. Dolan has neglected to do so. But several habitués of Broadway's theatrical district claim to have seen Dolan within the last 24 hours, esconced in his old haunts without apparent attempt at concealment.

It is also said that he has had a conference with his attorney, William J. Fallon, but this could not be verified.

There is an air of mystery to the entire business. One story had it that Dolan left his home in Oshkosh, Wis., several days ago. His wife is said to have confessed ignorance of his present whereabouts.

STONE ON STAND IN DEFENSE ON SENATE PROBE

Administration Leaders Want to Curb Publicity Given Hearings.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Attorney General Harlan F. Stone, named to the supreme court by President Coolidge, took the witness stand in his own defense today, before the senate judiciary committee to defend his professional record against senatorial criticism.

Stone appeared first at a secret session to explain his former legal activities for J. Pierpont Morgan and his reported intention as attorney general to re-indict Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat of Montana. Opposition to these two phases of Stone's legal record has blocked confirmation of his appointment to the supreme court.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Provoked by publicity given the senatorial attack upon Attorney General Harlan F. Stone, administration leaders today studied methods of enforcing the senate's rule of silence thrown around its secret sessions a century ago.

Led by Senator Reed, Republican of Pennsylvania, Republican leaders had under consideration a plan to bar from the senate press gallery the representatives of all newspapers publishing news of events that occur behind locked doors. This would apply chiefly to the secret debate on presidential nominations and international treaties. It met with favor, especially after party chieftains found they could not enforce secrecy upon their own membership.

At the same time, the progressive factions of both major parties were preparing a drive to revise the senate's rules to permit public debate on all questions. It was learned that Senator Dill, Democrat of Washington, is now drafting a "publicity" resolution to be introduced within a few days.

"I will introduce a resolution to compel public sessions of the senate on consideration of either nominations or treaties," said Dill.

"In some instances, where secrecy might be desired by all, I would provide for closed sessions on a two thirds vote of the senate."

"It is outrageous to have any proceeding, which so vitally affects the welfare of the people—as appointments to the supreme court or an international treaty—considered in secret. The answer to the whole problem is that public business should be published."

Administration spokesmen were known to oppose the move.

"I favor steps to compel enforcement of the senate's rules imposing secrecy on all executive session business," said Senator Reed. "We cannot remedy the present situation by trying to force newspapermen to disclose their sources of information nor by lecturing our own members."

"The only way I see, is to enact a new rule barring from the press all representatives of any newspaper that publishes the business transacted in executive sessions. This would result in actual enforcement of the rule."

The two reformed drives grew out of the fight to prevent confirmation of Attorney General Stone's promotion to the supreme court.

THIRD MARRIAGE NOW MAKES GLORIA REAL MARCHIONESS

Paris, Jan. 28.—Gloria Swanson, the celebrated American film actress, was married at noon today to Marquis De La Flaise.

The wedding ceremony was performed at the Passy city hall. Passy is a suburb of Paris.

The marchioness as she now will be titled, will not retire from her film work, it was said.

The witness for the marquis was Baron d'Aiguy. The witness for Miss Swanson was first secretary of the American embassy, Hallet Johnson. Miss Swanson wore a beige gray tailored suit and a simple hat.

New York, Jan. 28.—Gloria Swanson, who was married today in Paris, to the Marquis Henri De La Flaise, is one of the world's most prominent as well as the world's highest paid film stars.

This is the third marriage of Miss Swanson. Her first husband was Wallace Beery, himself a motion picture player. Her second husband was Herbert Sornborn, of New York. By the second marriage she had a daughter, now living with Miss Swanson's mother.

Miss Swanson went abroad some months ago to make a motion picture. She was to have returned to the United States shortly to take the leading role in another film production.

LOW RATE ACCIDENT POLICY ISSUED BY PAPERS IS POPULAR

The farmer who walks down the road from his home to call on a neighbor, is an insurance risk, according to the records of insurance companies.

Statistics show that this is one of the common forms of disaster that have served to shorten life since the introduction of the automobile and other space-defying inventions.

It is one of the principal policies covered in the accident insurance policy being offered to readers of The Evening Gazette and The Morning Republican, at the extremely low rate of 98 cents a year. The policy issued at this low rate, which is for a total sum of $2,500, pays $1,000 for loss of life, loss of hands, feet or sight, occasioned by being knocked down while walking or standing on a public highway.

The same clause includes loss of life, hands, feet or sight by being struck by lightning, cyclone or tornado, by the collapse of the outer walls of a building, or in the burning of any church, theater, library, school or municipal building. If the victims of the Christmas eve school holocaust had carried these policies, beneficiaries would have realized greatly.

Sale of this insurance, which requires no physical examination whatever, is in charge of Tom Conklin, circulation manager of The Gazette and The Republican and the only stipulation made is that one of these papers goes into the home of the person wishing to be insured. Any one between the ages of ten and seventy may take out a policy and as many as wish in any one family may also take advantage of the offer.

Policies are issued in The Federal Life Insurance Company, Chicago, Ill., an old established company with assets more than $7,000,000. The extremely low rate is made possible through the volume of business the company is able to do through the newspapers which is proven by the record number of policies issued by The Gazette and The Republican since the plan was started.

The policy increases ten per cent in principal every year for five years so that the total value is $3,750 at the end of that time, although the yearly payments never exceed 98 cents.

In addition to the clause explained above the policy pays $2,000 for loss of life, hands, feet or sight by the wrecking of public omnibus, taxicab, auto stage horse drawn or motor driven vehicles and passenger elevators and the full $2,500 for loss of life, hands, feet, or sight by wrecking of railroad passenger car, street car, elevator or subway car, steamship or steamboat.

In case of partial disability, the policy pays $10 a week for a period of fifteen weeks for all injuries sustained in this manner. In other words it is a policy that the holder does not have to die to "beat".

KIWANIS GREATEST SERVICE CLUB IN U. S. SPEAKER SAYS AT TENTH ANNIVERSARY MEET

"The Kiwanis organization is the greatest service club in the United States" is the opinion of J. Kenneth Williamson, past president of the Xenia Kiwanis Club, expressed in a talk at the Elks' Lodge Monday night, when the local club celebrated the tenth anniversary of the Kiwanis organization.

Mr. Williamson told of the growth of Kiwanis from a luncheon club to the organization as it is now operated. At the time of its incorporation he said, the motto of the club was "We Trade" and in 1913 the club became a humanitarian organization and the motto "We Build" was substituted in 1919. There are now 1,300 clubs with over 95,000 members, he said.

"A ledger account of what the member gets out of the club or the good done by the clubs cannot be kept," he said, "but the unselfish work of the organization in every community is easily recognized." Dr. A. M. Patterson, president of the local club last year gave a short talk on Kiwanis International and told of the co-operation and growth of the clubs over the world.

S. M. McKay, another former president of the club gave an interesting talk on the future of Kiwanis and the need for co-operation among the members. He urged the importance of committee work and for every member to do his share.

C. E. Arbogast, on behalf of the club, presented Dr. Patterson, as retiring president, a handsome traveling bag, as a token of esteem. Dr. Patterson responded and toasted the co-operation of the club members during his term of office.

President E. H. Heathman gave a brief account of the district convention which he, with Dr. Patterson, attended in Columbus last week. MOTHERS YOUNGER KIDDIES STRONGER

CocoCod Is Replacing Rouge As Result of Investigation In Our Schools

Mother's are growing younger as their kiddies grow stronger! Awakened to the full value of a new feeding and building process by the recent investigation in our public schools, women are finding CocoCod, a new easy-to-take form of cod liver oil, a welcome substitute for rouge in causing roses to bloom in pallid cheeks.

Startling as was the revelation that 40% of our students are literally underfed—suffering from malnutrition and vitamin deficiency—it has had a wholesome and far-reaching effect. Medical authorities who believe this underfeeding responsible for much of the ill health among adults, recommend cod liver oil as a means to renewed vigor for men and women as well as children.

In CocoCod the taste of rich cocoa is welcomed by youngsters as much as its strength-building vitamins and pure Norwegian cod liver oil are praised by physicians, teachers and nurses. It is truly astounding, even in aged folk, how it wakes up the eliminative organs, creates greater nerve force and causes good red blood to go bounding through the veins.

So far-reaching are its effects in both men and women and among all ages, that thoughtful minds are asking—"Is a new and fuller life opening to us?" What will be the result, they say, when the full benefits of this feeding or building process are realized? Only time can show, but meanwhile CocoCod is bringing new strength, energy, nerve force and vitality to many weak, nervous, half-alive people. School druggists who are distributing it, as well as physicians and teachers, have been informed concerning its value. Ask for CocoCod if you want the genuine Norwegian cod liver oil in easy-to-take form.—Adv.

DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER

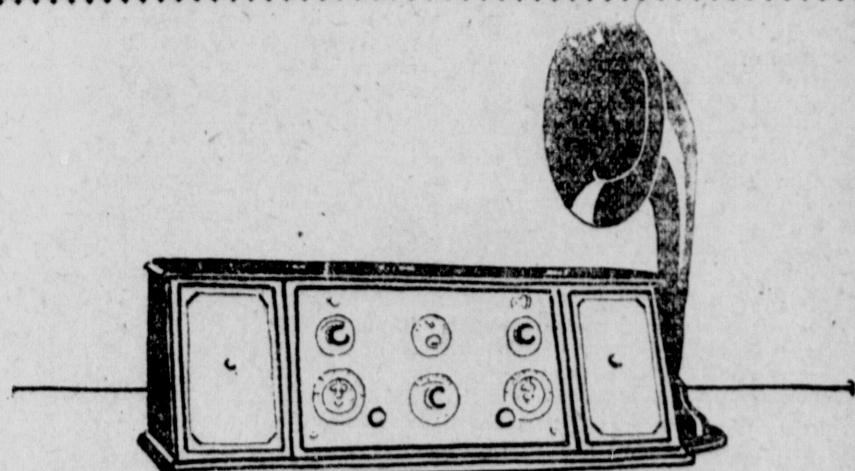

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night, if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

The famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acid in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

PICTURESQUE PROGRAM PRESENTED BEFORE CLUB

One of the most effective and delightful programs presented before a Xenia club audience was enacted at the meeting of the Xenia Woman's Music Club, at the home of Mrs. Alice Ruthrauff on North King Street, Monday afternoon.

Each member had been given the privilege of inviting one guest to the meeting, without the knowledge of the surprise in store for them. The program of the afternoon was in charge of the Fifth Division, with Miss Stella Bishop as the leader.

Miss Bishop read her paper on "Stories of the Opera as Puccini," which was ably handled and was of deeper import since the death of this famous opera-writer saddened the musical world recently.

Miss Bishop then turned the program of the afternoon into the hands of Mrs. Charles W. Adair, who was responsible for the unusual effects and who has been the originator of many clever performances in the city.

Mrs. Adair titled her program "Living Portraits from Operas." In one corner of the living room of the Ruthrauff home a screen frame had been arranged where the opera characters as they took their places, formed a living picture. Mrs. Adair had written poetry for each character as introduced, giving the name of the scene and the various famous roles enacted. Each one taking part in the program, took the part of several characters.

Mrs. James Wilson, III, was introduced in the roles of "Puccini," "Martha," and "Isolde." "The Last Rose of Summer" was sung during Mrs. Wilson's "Martha" scene.

Miss Elizabeth Alexander took the part of "Scarpia," "Genaro" and "Tonio." She repeated part of the prologue of "Tonio."

Miss Anna Lee Moore stepped into the picture as "Madame Butterfly," "Nedda" and "The Countess Gilda."

Miss Betty Montague was "The Girl from the Golden West" and also appeared as "Gretel" and "Mignon."

The colorful character of "Carmen" and that of "Santuzza" were taken by Mrs. Lawrence Shields.

"Elizabeth" from the opera "Tannhauser" and "Chimene" were the characters enacted by Miss Evelyn Perrill. The romantic figure of "Cinderella" was portrayed in the person of Miss Mary Louise Smith.

Miss Mildred Fudge and Miss Mary Louise Smith took part in the "La Boheme" scene together. The well-known opera characters of "Salome" and "Mimi" were pictured by Miss Helen Reutinger.

Shakespeare's pathetic character of "Ophelia" and the Latin "Lucia" were the roles taken by Miss Zella Soward.

Miss Bertha Hyman took the part of "Gilda" and Mrs. Steel Fudge in the part of "Beckmesser." Miss Josephine John as "Puck" and "Hansel."

Miss Annabelle Dean read a part of the character "Cherubino" when she appeared as that character. She also took the part of "Arlene, a babe from Toyland" and Mrs. Adair sang a number from this opera during the scene.

Another picturesque role was that of Faust's "Marguerite" taken by Mrs. Karl R. Babb.

"Donna Anna" and "Louise" were the characters taken by Miss Mary Elizabeth McDorman.

Climaxing the series of charming pictures, little Miss Joan Huston appeared as a dainty Cupid, whose name was read in connection with that of Miss Stella Bishop, a member of the club, whose wedding will be an event of the near future. Little "Miss Cupid" served the guests refreshments, and the remainder of the meeting was enjoyed socially, in compliment to Miss Bishop.

Other characters familiar to every one interested in opera and music were taken by Miss Mildred Fudge in the part of "Beckmesser," Miss Josephine John as "Puck" and "Hansel."

LACK OF CHRISTIAN TRAINING DEPLORED BY LECTURER HERE

The cause of the present slump in moral living, the crime of today and the general downward moral tendency is due to the lack of early Christian influence in the home, declared Dr. Henry Blackburn, M. D., well-known lecturer, from Des Moines, Ia., in an address a number of the Central High School lecture course, Tuesday evening at the Jean B. Elwell Auditorium.

Dr. Blackburn delivered a plain talk on the subject "Cords and Discords." He dwelt on the influences affecting the forming of the character of the boy or girl. He gave examples of points, gained through his experiences as a physician and deplored the effects of the wrong kind of living.

He drew graphic pictures of the later effect of the early wrong mode of living and declared the failures and wrecks of today were the result of the impressions brought out in early life. He told of the harmful effects of suggestive pictures, literature and other influences.

The general theme of his address was moral cleanliness and the effects of opposing forces, and the result of certain immoral practices on later happiness and welfare.

Dr. Blackburn gave a similar address to the students of Central High School, Wednesday morning. Both talks were well received by the audiences.

The next number of the school lecture course will be "The Ghost Between" the play by Vincent Lawrence, which will be presented February 25 by a Broadway cast.

The play is said to be clean, swift-moving and of a natural theme. It tells the story of a well-to-do physician who marries a widow because he wants to give her the nice things of life. The thought that she is still in love with her dead husband, on the husband's part and the wife's impression that her husband lacked the necessary love for her causes the couple much unhappiness and gives material for an interesting plot. The lines include much comedy and "punch."

The play ran for three months at the Thirty-ninth Street Theater, New York City.

ANTIOCH STUDENTS WILL GIVE BOSSES DINNER IN DAYTON

The Antioch co-operative students working in Dayton are giving a dinner Thursday evening at the Engineer's Club to their "bosses."

This is the first dinner of its kind ever given in Dayton or anywhere else so far known.

The dinner is sponsored entirely by Antioch students, both men and women, and promises to be an interesting affair. Already acceptances have been received to the full capacity of the dining room at the Engineer's Club. There will be present fifty-nine bosses, representing forty-one industrial and business institutions of Dayton, and sixty-five Antioch students and members of the faculty, including President Arthur Morgan and Dean Philip Nash. The idea was originated by Miss Helen F. Greene, associate personnel director of Antioch College, formerly of Smith College, who will return from a trip to the East in time to attend the dinner Thursday evening.

The purpose of the dinner is to bring working students of Antioch of both sexes and their bosses together in a spirit of fellowship once every year, hence the function for Thursday has been entitled "The First Annual Bosses Dinner."

The preliminaries have been in charge of the Social Committee of the Antioch Men's Club, of Dayton, Clarence Edward Hanson, of Paso Robles, California, chairman. Mr. Hanson, who is only twenty years of age, will, as temporary chairman of the evening, introduce student worker Ernest M. Henderson of Davenport, Iowa, as Toastmaster or Permanent Chairman of the meeting. After a short address of welcome, Mr. Henderson will introduce Stanley B. Methewson, personnel director of Antioch College, who will in a five minute talk introduce Dean Nash of Antioch and Thomas B. Fordham, works manager of the Delco-Light.

Dean Nash will acknowledge the introduction for the academic faculty and Mr. Fordham will do likewise for the industrial faculty.

Miss Naomi Morgan of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., a student-worker of the Antioch Women's Club of Dayton, will make a short address on behalf of the women students of Antioch, and Arthur D. Zolg of Dayton will speak for the men-worker students of Antioch.

At the close of Mr. Zolg's talk, a ten minute recess will be taken to give everybody an opportunity to get acquainted. After recess Chairman Henderson will introduce Arthur E. Morgan, President of Antioch, as the principal speaker of the evening.

Invitations have been sent to all members of the board of trustees of the college, including General J. Warren Keifer, Homer C. Corry, of Springfield; George Little of Xenia; Gordon S. Rentschler of Hamilton; Prof. William M. Dawson, Yellow Springs; John C. Haswell, Frank D. Slutz, C. F. Kettering and William A. Christ of Dayton. It is hoped that Professor Sven V. Knudson of Denmark, who is now on route to Yellow Springs, will arrive in time to be present at the dinner. Professor Knudson has come to Antioch because of Antioch's growing importance in the educational world.

Among the Geats there was grave sorrow and they buried their leader as he had commended. So passed the mightiest of the champions, a thane among thanes, a king among kings.

GOOD DISPOSITIONS INVALUABLE

You can't watch your disposition too carefully. A crab and a grouch are rarely successful. If your liver and stomach are in an unhealthy condition you can not have a sunny disposition because they affect the brain as well as the entire system. Mav's Wonderful Remedy has been usually successful in such cases. Our advice to everyone troubled in this way, especially when accompanied with bloating in the stomach, is to try this remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. OVERHEATED STOVE CAUSES FIRE THAT DESTROYS DWELLING

Fire which started from an overheated stove destroyed the residence owned by Merritt Phoenix, colored, 673 East Second Street, with most of the contents Tuesday afternoon.

Members of the family were away when the fire started and it had gained considerable headway before an alarm was sent in. Wrong directions furnished the fire department resulted in delay of firemen reaching the scene, and the flames were shooting through the roof when they arrived.

The residence is a frame, story and one-half structure, and it was completely gutted before firemen were able to check the flames. Three sections of hose, including 150 feet, were laid by firemen and water damage will account for part of the loss on the contents.

T. B. Claire, fire chief, said the owner was unable to estimate the loss, part of which will be covered by insurance carried on both building and contents.

Firemen used a chemical to extinguish a small blaze at the home of Fred Horvick, 224 Union Street, Tuesday evening. An overheated furnace is said to have caused the blaze. There was no damage.

15. Beowulf's Death (Drawing: Beowulf Costume)

And the people gathered round their dying king. Wiglaf denounced the cowardly thanes who had deserted their master in his hour of need. Then all the people listened to the last words of Beowulf.

"Divide ye this treasure amongst all and lay me to rest by the sea. And raise over me a great mound that all may see, and seeing remember Beowulf." Then he breathed his last.

Among the Geats there was grave sorrow and they buried their leader as he had commended. So passed the mightiest of the champions, a thane among thanes, a king among kings.

GOOD DISPOSITIONS INVALUABLE

You can't watch your disposition too carefully. A crab and a grouch are rarely successful. If your liver and stomach are in an unhealthy condition you can not have a sunny disposition because they affect the brain as well as the entire system. Mav's Wonderful Remedy has been usually successful in such cases. Our advice to everyone troubled in this way, especially when accompanied with bloating in the stomach, is to try this remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. MEN SHOULD FIGHT IN RANKS OF GOD AS THEY DID IN WAR EVANGELIST TELLS EX-SOLDIERS

Dr. George Hugh Birney delivered the first of a series of afternoon sermons in the First Methodist Church, Tuesday afternoon, upon the general theme, "The Holy Spirit."

He spoke, in this first message, on "The Holy Spirit—and the Changed Plan," referring to the two-fold mission of the Holy Spirit—the mission of grace to the church, and the mission of conviction to the world. Jesus said, "When He is come (that is the Holy Spirit) He will convict the world of sin, of righteousness and of judgment." This was an uplifting message, and was heard by a good audience, considering the cold weather and the fact that this was the first of the afternoon services.

In the evening a number of ex-service men of three wars were present, and a large audience to hear Dr. Birney tell of his experiences overseas during the war.

"No Man's Land," said Evangelist Birney, Tuesday night, "will be the international cemetery of the world for a thousand years, because there ten million men gave up their lives upon the altar of war. It is sown with crosses, every one marking the place where lies the body of the world's soldier dead. Crosses in villages, crosses by the wayside, whole fields full of crosses, whole hillsides full of crosses—a world full of crosses everywhere! I helped fill an American cemetery, just below the timber line of the Vosges, with the bodies of our boys, as we laid them away to await the trumpet of the resurrection."

The evangelist then quoted the poem, "In Flanders Field." He spoke of the challenge of those who lie out there, to "hold aloft their torch." And then he took his audience to Calvary where Jesus hung upon the first Cross and from whose blood-flecked lips came the word of the text, "GO." He pled with his audience to be true to that Divine command, as the condition of obedience to the passion of God.

Dr. Birney described a detachment going over the top at the "zero" hour, and the training of the army for that moment. He spoke of the artillery barrage which prepared the way for the charge, without which success would have been impossible. His audience could almost feel the awful tension of the moments of final waiting, and then the upheaving of the crouching soldiers, and their advance across No Man's Land hurling themselves in to the enemy's trenches, charging through the intersecting trenches, down into the dug-outs, with bayonet rapping on bayonet, hand grenades bursting until the last inch of steel found its resting place in some man's heart and then—death or victory! It was a vivid description and will not soon be forgotten by the soldiers and others who sat tense with interest throughout the entire message.

The evangelist drew the analogy between the soldier and the Christian. "Nothing but the yellowness of sin," he said, "can ever explain why it seems to be harder to get men to fight for Jesus than for Uncle Sam. Many a man who went Over the Top over there, turns into a yellow coward when asked to do the same thing for God. It is not because they are physically afraid, but because sin makes cowards of all of us. It takes more genuine grit and grace to fight the battles of the Christian life than it ever did to face the enemy in the trenches—God knows why. But the moment we let the love of Christ in our hearts, and the loyalty of Heaven in our souls nothing is too hard, or no adventure too desperate. God is enlisting an army of fighting heroes. He is saying—'If any man would come after Me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow Me.'"

"If the church would bring to its evangelistic task today one tithe of the loyalty and sacrifice which won the war, we could win this generation to God."

Dr. Birney completed the analogy by speaking of the spiritual warfare which the artillery of God sends in answer to the prayer of faith. "It would be suicidal to go forward without this preparation," he said, "for we cannot win in our own strength. In answer to the prayers of the church God will send the Holy Spirit upon this community until men shall cry out, 'Men and Brethren, what shall we do to be saved?'"

"It is 'zero' hour for the church, and the command is to 'GO.' Are we standing at attention? Are we ready for our task? Have we laid all upon the altar? Are we ready to make the sacrifice, not to kill men but to make them alive unto God?"

Dr. Birney told a touching story of how a certain slim scout, a lad from Kansas, boasted to him that he was going out to hunt for his "Buddy" in No Man's Land one night, and "Was not coming back without him." The evangelist described this lad deliberately separating himself from his scouting squad and crawling through the darkness calling, "Buddy are you out here—have you got you? Buddy! Buddy! I'm out here to get you and I'm not going back until I find you—Buddy! Buddy! Buddy!" "Neither boy ever came back," concluded the speaker. "Oh, I would to God that such a spirit, sanctified by the passion that took Jesus to Calvary, might send every one of us out with the vow never to come back without those we seek for God."

The audience was dismissed at 8 o'clock for those having tickets to the lecture in the High School Auditorium to attend. An after service of prayer and testimony was held, and a large number of people took part. The rival is increasing in numbers and interest.

The subject of Dr. Birney Wednesday night at 7:30 will be "The Family Name of God," it being "family night." A prize will be given by Dr. Birney to the youngest member of the largest family present. "Bring out the babies," says the doctor, "and we will make them comfortable." Fathers, mothers, sons and daughters, are invited to attend and sit together if possible.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR P. T. A. MEETING ALL DAY THURSDAY

The attention that organized parent-teacher work has attracted in the United States will be shown when almost 500 delegates from the southwestern Ohio district of the state branch of the National Congress Parent-Teacher Association will meet in Xenia, Thursday at Central High School.

Plans that vitally affect homes, schools and community life in eleven counties in Ohio will be discussed at the meeting, which will be addressed by well-known educators from over the state.

The chief speakers of the day include Paul C. Stetson, superintendent of Dayton City Schools; Dr. W. R. McChesney, president of Cedarville College; Mrs. Edith McClure Patterson, Dayton, state thrift chairman; Thurman "Dusty" Miller, Wilmington; and Mrs. Hamilton Shaffer, second state P.T.A. vice president, besides other local educators.

Members of the Xenia Parent-Teacher Federation were busy Wednesday completing details for the large meeting. Plans for serving the guests luncheon and dinner were one of the problems confronting the hostesses.

All sessions will be held in the Jean B. Elwell Auditorium of Central High School and luncheon and dinner will be served in the school cafeteria.

POLICE BENEFIT
EXPECTED TO DRAW
CROWDS TO THEATER

Police believe they will realize generously from the benefit movie performance to be staged at the Capitol Theater Thursday and Friday afternoon and evening.

Policemen have sold tickets for the affair, and the proceeds of the benefit will be used by them in the purchase of new uniforms, which they expect to don this spring. The new uniforms, it is said, will change the style of police uniforms in use in the city.

The movie feature is "Going Up," a seven-reel comedy drama, featuring Douglas MacLean, who made a name for himself in the "Hotel" series. In addition to this picture, a one-reel Larry Semon comedy will be shown, giving patrons eight reels of pictures.

Officers are urging those who purchased tickets to attend the matinee and avoid the crowds at night. The matinee each day will be at 2:30 o'clock while in the evening there will be performances at 6:30 and 8:30 o'clock.

Policemen have sold many tickets for the benefit among friends, and say crowds will greet the appearance of the picture here.

Your Income Tax

The revenue act of 1924 provides for certain specified deductions from gross income in determining net income, among which are business expenses, interest on indebtedness, taxes, losses, bad debts, depreciation, depletion and contributions and gifts. Each will be treated separately.

Deductions for business expenses form the largest claim in the returns of many taxpayers. All the ordinary and necessary expenses of a trade or business or profession paid or incurred during the year for which the return is made are allowable deductions.

A taxpayer in trade or business may claim as deductions from gross income a reasonable allowance for salaries paid employees, amounts spent for advertising, premium for insurance against fire or other business losses, rent paid for store or warehouse, the stationery, etc., used in his place of business drayage and freight bills and the cost of operation and repair of delivery wagons and trucks. A professional man may claim as deductions the cost of supplies used in his practice, expenses paid in the operation and repair of an automobile used for professional calls, dues to professional societies, subscriptions to professional journals, office rent, the cost of fuel, light, heat and water used in such office and the hire of assistants.

The farmer who operates a farm for profit may deduct all amounts paid in the production and harvesting of his crops, including labor, cost of seed and fertilizer used, cost of minor repairs to farm buildings (but not the dwelling) and cost of small tools used up in the course of a year or two.

Your gasoline bills run into real money.

But have you ever stopped to figure how much of this is in the form of an incredibly high gasoline tax?

Let's see what happens when you leave the Concrete Highway and take to a gravel or a dirt road.

Conclusive tests have proved that a gallon of gasoline will carry you only two thirds as far on a gravel road as on a Concrete Road. On a dirt road a gallon of gasoline will carry you only half as far as on Concrete.

With gasoline at twenty cents a gallon, you would thus pay a gasoline tax of more than 6 cents per gallon on the gravel road and 20 cents a gallon on the dirt road.

These are figures you can't get away from. You can prove them yourself.

And remember that every time you travel on either a dirt or a gravel road you also increase wear and tear on tires and run up your general repair bills.

Why continue to pay these high taxes and get nothing in return but the discomfort and inconvenience of unpaved roads and streets?

Let your local officials know you want an adequate system of Concrete Roads and Streets. They are just as willing to build them as you are anxious to get them.

But they must have your support.

Xenia, Ohio, Jan. 28.-A few jottings of the day Samuel Pepps, Jr.-This day my wife, poor wretch, put on her new silk gown, which is cut short at the sleeves, as the fashion lately is, in which she was very pretty. So walked to the Methodist church, and, I being dressed in a blue shirt, we did make a great show.

A good sermon by Doctor Stanton and one that had some good pointers for me, but of a truth I did most of the time gaze upon a beautiful maid with bobbed hair, for which God forgive me! The singing as good as any I have ever heard and mightily joyed that my wife did not sing out of tune, as is often the case.

In the afternoon came company to chat with us and we fell to talking about our fear of dentists, and loud praise we all had for those who give care to their teeth, as should we all. All spoke, too, of reading the ads in the "Professional" classification on the classified page.

By and by to the hospital to visit a friend lately cut from his tonsils, and found him quite happy and able to be about, the longing to get back again to his labors. Left him a bunch of flowers and met a nurse who gives him care, so left humming a tune about "I don't want to get well."

Made plans to go to a dance this week, tho have visions of how I will break my neck, so awkward am I. Played some tunes on my talking machine with the tin horn, until a late hour, when, frightened lest my neighbors give me a calling, and so lot to bed with prayers.

UNBEATEN TEAMS FACE EACH OTHER IN LEAGUE GAMES

The two United Presbyterian teams, First and Second, hanging evenly from the halcyons of first place in the High School League of Sunday School Basketball Teams, with one victory each in as many starts, will oppose each other Wednesday night at the Central High School gym in a game, which will dislodge one team from the quadruple tie existing for first place.

The Friends Church is the third undefeated team to get into action Wednesday night against the Trinity Methodist Church team, which has a .500 percentage, with one game won and one dropped.

A comparison of scores would appear to give the First U. P. the edge in the game with the sister church. The former five ran up fourteen points while walloping the Home boys last week, while the Second U. P. team has no end of trouble in beating Trinity M. E., 7 to 4.

Trinity, after a mediocre start, came to life Monday and ran up a total of twenty-two points on the Episcopal team, while holding the Episcopal boys to a lone foul goal.

DAYTON TERMINAL OF TRACTION LINE TO BE MOVED SOON

Dayton terminal of the Dayton, Springfield and Xenia Southern Traction line and the Dayton Covington and Piqua Traction Company, will be moved from its present location in the Keith Theatre building in Dayton to the Giddings Hotel building, 223 South Ludlow Street, it is announced by T. A. Ferneding, general manager of the former company.

Cars will be operated from the new station on and after February 1, it is said. The lease on the present building expires on that date.

Removal of the terminal was decided on as a result of continued delay in operation of the traction cars around the Third Street loop, it is said. Cars are sometimes tied up by the new traffic signals at the corners from five to ten minutes, thus throwing off the entire schedule for the day.

The general offices of the D. S. and S. X. Railway are at present located on the second floor of the Giddings Hotel building.

MAY PROVIDE FOR SISTER OF BRYAN

Financial provision may be made by the state for Mary V. Bryan, a patient in Longview Hospital for Insane, Cincinnati, if a resolution by Representative Tallentire, Cincinnati, is adopted by the House.

The woman is a sister of the late John Bryan, Yellow Springs, who bequeathed the state 500 acres of land near Yellow Springs, several years ago, to be used for a state park.

Value of the land is estimated at $100,000. Bryan left his sister only $50 in his will.

XLVI—WHO WOULD BE FREE?

PATRICIA ducked her head and tried to brush past her husband as though she had not seen him, but he exclaimed "Patricia, were you coming to see me?"

"How like a man," she thought, "Even so nice a man as Andrew always to think that a woman was looking for him if she came anywhere near his neighborhood."

"Would you have seen me if I had?" Patricia asked a note of wistfulness creeping into her voice.

"Oh I don't know," Andrew answered brusquely, "I suppose like a fool I wouldn't have. But come—let's go where we can talk. How are you, Pat? You're looking wonderful I must say. But how are you getting along?"

She smiled at him quizzically. "I can't talk to you now, Andrew," she said, dreading almost to speak for fear he would be whisked away from her again. "I'm late now for an important meeting. I must go in. But won't you come to see me tonight, at my hotel?"

"I don't understand all this Pat," he said, a note of tenderness creeping into his voice. Then, after a moment's hesitation, when she didn't speak he added, "I'll come."

Patricia couldn't have told anyone after the meeting what it was about; she was only vaguely conscious of a pounding at her heart and of a circle of faces around a table not one of which was the least bit interesting because not one of them looked like Andrew. But though she was not unobserving, she was not unobserved. The queenly bearing of her head, her aristocratic carriage, made such an impression on several of the men present that they resolved at once to ask her to interest Clayton Gillespie in other projects of theirs. If she was always to represent him, these committee meetings might not be so bad.

But Patricia hurried away in a daze before any of them could approach her. She wanted to get to fifty-seventh street to a certain little shop where she had seen a wine-colored evening dress, before it closed. Andrew had always liked her in that color. Then she must pick up her crystal bangles and earrings that were being cleaned and restringed at the jeweler's.

"I'm fluttering like a debutante," she confided to her reflection in the mirror, just as the telephone rang announcing Andrew.

There was a quaver in her voice as she started talking to him, she wondered if he would give her a chance to tell her story or if he would just cut her off brusquely. In cold silence he heard her tell of her trip to her sister's, of how Keith had immediately used her friendship with Hewitt to further his business and of how she had come back to Chicago injured only to find his telegram ordering her back.

"And where is Hewitt now?" Andrew asked, his voice smoldering with anger.

"Oh you don't understand," Patricia's voice broke with a sob. "I don't know where he is, and probably never will. I didn't leave you for Gregory Hewitt," she went on. "I left you because you were making me a part of your business—and such an unworthy part. I was nothing but a dressed-up doll who entertained your business associates. We had no real friends. We rarely had time even to see each other."

"And are you happier now?" he asked with a sardonic smile. "In a way, yes," Patricia stubbornly though she knew that this was her chance to fling caution to the winds and tell him that she would come back to him on any terms. "Of course, I miss you terribly. But I realize that what I want now was what I wanted before."

In cold silence Andrew heard her tell of her trip.

fore when I was with you—a real home, real friends, time to know each other—and children."

"We couldn't have all that Pat," he assured her earnestly. "I only asked you to help me because I needed you. Next year, perhaps we can break away from the awful pace that you hate so. Come back and I will forgive you for running away."

"Forgive me!" Pat's eyes blazed with anger as she backed out of his arms. "You forgive me for what?" Her voice was angry now and burning tears were coursing down her cheeks. "You have nothing to forgive, and I can't, I won't come back."

As he went out the door, she flung herself on a couch and cried convulsively. She had struck for her freedom and oh how she hated it! If she could call Andy back now, she would do it gladly, even though she knew that going back under the old terms meant unhappiness for both of them.
